It's not just for GPs!

The RCGP is encouraging participation from the whole primary care team at this year's Conference – it would be great to see you there!

The programme includes specific streams for practice managers including sessions on leadership, performance management, finance management and more.

Practice managers can attend for free!

- Register 2 GPs from your practice and the practice manager can attend for free – register your practice team ticket for just £699 before 27 July 2009.

Book early for a discounted rate

- Practice managers registering individually will make a saving of £250 on the full delegate rate by registering before 27 July 2009.

Even more reason to attend...

The RCGP will be launching a major new initiative at the Conference, supporting practice managers working in general practice. This ground-breaking initiative will help practice managers develop career prospects, offer CPD and educational support and open doors to new resources.

We would love to see you at the conference to tell you more but if you can't be with us you might like to register your interest in this unique initiative – just email you name to gpf@rcgp.org.uk
